THE QUEEN OF MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS.

In the piano. The inventive genius of man has never produced anything that has been less subject to changes. Beyond a few improvements the principal is practically the same as in the original design.

THE SMITH & BARNES PIANO has been improved from time to time since its introduction to the public in 1883 and it now stands at the head of its class. Many think it worthy of occupying a place with the higher priced instruments.

Thirteen Indian Frauds.
Thirty-five years ago a Comanche squaw left her tribe and went to Mexico, and was supposed to be dead. About ten years ago a woman came to Chief Quannah Parker claiming to be the daughter of Sun-a-way, the Indian woman who left so many years ago. Accompanying the alleged daughter were twelve children, which the chief received and accepted as the descendants of Sun-a-way. When allotments were recently made all of the thirteen were given 160 acres of valuable land.

Some Mexicans who visited the Comanches a short time ago told Chief Parker that Sun-a-way was still living in Mexico and that her daughter had died many years ago. Chief Parker, after two or three attempts, found the old Indian woman and had her brought back. She verified the stories of the Mexicans of her daughter's death and denied any acquaintance with the impostors who had as her descendants succeeded in obtaining 1,750 acres of land. What disposition the government will make of the matter remains to be seen.

WILL REBUILD HARGROVE

BUILDING TO COST NOT LESS THAN $50,000 WILL BE BUILT.

A MONUMENT TO ARDMORE

Committees Appointed to Secure Buildings That Conduct of School Work Will Go Right on—Hargrove Week Committee.

It is the intention of the board of trustees of Hargrove college to continue the session of the college until the close of the fiscal year. It is also contemplated that the college building that was destroyed by fire, be replaced by a building to cost not less than $50,000, in which to conduct the college work, exclusive of the boys' dormitory, which was burned last winter, and which will be replaced by a suitable building in which the boys will be housed. Committees have been appointed to secure proper buildings in which to conduct the college and school work for the remainder of the session.

A committee consisting of R. W. Randol, G. B. Staples and Prof. G. P. S. Ividge was appointed to secure suitable buildings within which the work of the college may progress for the remainder of the scholastic year.

A committee to arrange for Hargrove week, within which time every society, secret organization and citizen within the city limits will be requested to donate its, his or her mite, to rebuild the main building, so that the college may remain at Ardmore. The committee appointed to promulgate the ways, which funds can be secured, to secure the rebuilding of the building and to organize Hargrove week, consists of the following: Prof. C. E. Evans, Morris Sass, J. A. Madden, Sidney Suggs and Rev. C. C. Welch.

Prof. C. E. Evans, Sidney Suggs, Morris Sass, Mesdames J. C. Thompson and M. Kard were appointed as a committee to arrange for Hargrove week, when a collection will be taken.

Hon. W. A. Ledbetter said: "Hargrove college must be rebuilt, although a personal sacrifice has to be made to establish the college on a solid financial basis. It means too much for Ardmore, and its future to let this institution leave the city."

A good college is the best asset that a city can have to make it grow. If every individual citizen, banker, lawyer, doctor, merchant, salesman or laborer has to make a personal sacrifice to assure the rebuilding of the college building, Ardmore will be the gainer.

J. E. Humphries said when seen, the advertisement that Ardmore as a city would receive and the good that would result should be a sufficient incentive to assure the rebuilding of the college. Ardmore cannot be without it, neither can the children of the Chickasaw nation.

Dr. Frederick Von Keller is another who wants to see the college rebuilt. It means too much to Ardmore to see it leave the city.

Judge Hosea Townsend, judge of the southern district of the Indian Territory, says in his opinion Ardmore should by all means see that the college building be replaced and a good endowment fund put to its credit in the bank. Ardmore cannot do without Hargrove college and Hargrove college cannot do without Ardmore.

Resolutions of High School.
The following resolutions were passed yesterday afternoon by the teachers and students of the Ardmore high school:

Whereas, we realize that Hargrove was our co-worker in education, and we realize that it has sustained a great loss by fire; be it

Resolved, that we, the students and teachers of the Ardmore high school, do hereby extend our heartfelt sympathy and offer them and assistance that we may be able to render.

Be it further resolved that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the Ardmoreite and Democrat for publication, and to the faculty of Hargrove college.

ATTORNEYS ON CHANGES

IN PROCEEDURE AND PRACTICE TO FOLLOW WITH STATEHOOD.

SUITABLE LEGISLATION

For the Protection of Fees and Clients Will be Sought for by the Bar Association—Many Good Speeches Made.

At a meeting of the bar association held last night a number of important matters concerning the changes in the code of procedure from the Arkansas practice under which laws the territory courts are conducted to the Oklahoma law which will be in vogue when statehood has been declared. The discussion was engaged in by several members of the bar present and the subject matter carefully handled.

Another important question considered was the securing of the passage of a bill when the state legislature meets so that attorneys may be protected in securing their fees and a lien be made to exist on funds collected by client, and so that should one of the parties settle the party who settles behind the back of the attorney who brought the suit be made to pay the fees. It is the endeavor of the bar association to have such a law enacted to protect themselves against railroads and other corporations who sometimes settle cases behind the attorneys back who brought the suit. A committee consisting of T. L. Norman, J. C. Thompson, and H. K. Allen was appointed to give the matter their careful attention and prepare a memorial.

On motion of H. A. Ledbetter, a committee consisting of three was appointed to draft a suitable memorial to the legislature so that laws may be enacted to protect the judgments already secured in the commissioners court, and pending litigation, and litigation that may be pending when statehood is secured. The consensus of opinion among the lawyers present at the bar meeting last night was that the enabling act nor the constitution made any provision for the protection of judgments secured in the courts. The committee appointed to look after this particular legislation consists of H. A. Ledbetter, L. S. Dolman, and J. V. Cabel.

County Judge-elect I. R. Mason made quite a speech setting out his views as to the matter in which he would conduct his court and asked the hearty co-operation of all the lawyers to assist him. The judge stated that this county would be greatly handicapped on account of the heavy probate docket which he would have to handle and the small amount of money allowed him under the Oklahoma laws, to which we would be subject until the legislature met, after the establishment of statehood.

Resolutions extending the thanks of the association to the Ardmoreite for publishing the meeting notice free of charge, and Joe Robison for the free use of the court room was adopted by a unanimous vote.

The question of adopting the code of ethics submitted at a previous meeting and which was published in the Ardmoreite brought forth considerable discussion among the members, the majority favoring the adoption of a code, but did not favor the adoption of section 12, which read as follows: "I will not undertake to secure business by attending to it for a sum less than has been demanded by any other member of the association." The matter was trashed out fully in the meeting both pro and con. While all the members thought that it would be a good thing to put a stop to the matter of people going around from lawyer to lawyer endeavoring to see which lawyer would do the work the cheapest.

On motion of T. L. Norman a committee consisting of five members of the bar, with H. C. Potter as acted last night as chairman of the committee to draft and arrange a schedule of fees for the members of the association. The committee to be made up of two civil lawyers, two criminal lawyers, together with the chairman. This committee is to be named later. The committee appointed to draft the constitution and by-laws of the association will make a report within one week, and another meeting of the association will be held within two days after the report of the committee has been handed into the secretary.

The attendance last night was the largest since its organization, thirty-five members being present.
